Schedule of the discipline

Solo speed race for beginners is based on the #HandiFlyRace Competition Rules.

Each registered competitor will be told by the organiser in which body position he/she will fly during the competition, therefore in which category he will compete (belly, back, sit fly). In case of every competitor it will be decided based on information available to the organiser regarding flying skills of the competitor.

There will be three competing rounds.

Each competitor will fly a predetermined route in each round, touching point in the tunnel.

Final score of each competitor in each round consists of the time flown plus any potential five-seconds penalties added for each bust. The goal is to get the lowest score possible.

Bust is, for example, when falling out of the position in which the competitor must fly or when touching the point by any other body part than right hand or when missing a touch etc.

Time flown will be measured by a laser sensor in the tunnel door.

The timer starts when the competitors enters the tunnel and ends when he/she leaves the tunnel.

The touch points will be controlled by the designated scoring system and its operation crew.

The busts will be determined by the judges.

Before the start of the competition, competitors must report at what speed they will fly in the tunnel. The speed can be changed for each round, but not during the round.

Any additional information will be listed on the FB page of the event.
